

GOETHE'S RESIDENCE WITH NATIONAL MUSEUM

Goethe Residence

One of the most important examples of Classical Weimar, Johann Wolfgang von Goethe lived in this Baroque house for almost fifty years. He lived there from 1782 to 1789 as a tenant, then from 1792 to 1832 as the owner. The poet planned the form and furnishing of the rooms as well as its rich collections, e.g. in the Juno Room. The furnishings and fittings from the last few years of Goethe's life have largely been preserved. For reasons of conservation, the number of visitors is limited.

Goethe National Museum

Shortly after the death of Goethe's last grandson Walther, Goethe's historic residence and his art and nature collections passed on to the trusteeship of the Goethe National Museum, founded in 1885. Two museum buildings were built in 1913 and 1935 to accommodate the steadily growing collection. The Goethe National Museum is situated in the same building as Goethe Residence.
