

WEIMARHALLE

On stage in Weimar

Meeting Point Weimar: The former cultural city of Europe has created the best prerequisites to get to the top of the scale of the most popular seminar locations with the "congress centrum neue weimarhalle". The attractive new building, surrounded by a well cared park, is not only very close to the historic town centre but also in close proximity to the leading hotels.

Next to the function as the main conference center the Weimarhall is one of the main stages for a large variety of cultural events. Containing symphony orchestras, art festivals, events of the MDR (central German radio) alongside uncountable performances by various artists. But not only cultural events and conferences are being held regularly. The Weimarhall also meets the needs of various private and institutional societies, as the main host and main supportive hall of the city.

A room of all purpose

The main hall with about 1200 seats is complemented by five, in part combineable halls with about 400 seats each and a smaller hall for about 240 guests, alongside a large number of rooms for various purposes.

Adjacent to the large main building, the little Weimarhall is located. It has the same purpose as the larger sister with which it may be booked together, or standalone to host smaller conferences or events.
